THE INS AND OUTS OF IPL

THE WORLD IS going crazy over IPL! But what exactly is this popular new beauty treatment and what does it involve?

IPL (intense pulsed light) can help achieve a more even skin tone, and is used in the treatment of brown age spots, skin rejuvenation, pigmentation, broken or burst capillaries and generalised redness of the face or neck.

With highly pinpointed lasers, IPL can dramatically improve the look of your skin with no downtime and minimal discomfort.

When choosing a treatment provider, the type of IPL machine they use is as important as the skill of the clinician. Sadly, not all machines are created equal.

In our clinic, we use the Lumenis M22, which is the gold standard of treatment of skin conditions and the latest technology used by physicians around the world. This machine enables us to treat more types of patients and conditions with better outcomes.
